ADOPT $333,000 SCHOOL BUDGET FOR GETTYSBURG JOINT DISTRICT

The Gettysburg joint school system's $333,000 budget for the fiscal year beginning July 2 was adopted at a joint board meeting Monday evening at the high school building clearing the way for individual districts in the jointure to draw up their own budgets and set school tax rates.

The budget, the highest ever adopted here, includes about $253,000 for teachers' salaries and makes provisions for salary increases expected to be voted at Harrisburg. The House already has passed the bill that now awaits Senate action.

General increases in operating costs in the local school system which will handle a record number of pupils next year and payments to the Gettysburg school authority on the addition to the high school building now under construction account for most of the other expenses in the budget. The total estimated expenditures for the year ending this month are $322,240.

Exact Figures Lacking
Offsetting the rising costs are increased state appropriations, board members pointed out.

Dr. L. C. Keefe, Gettysburg superintendent of school, in submitting the budget, approved in tentative form a month ago, told the directors "we are still up in the air on exact figures because of the school legislation that is pending in Harrisburg."

Many Visitors Expected Here During June

June tourists in Gettysburg will include a number of Boy Scout and Girl Scout troops as well as graduating classes, other school children and a number of youngsters attending a national 4-H club camp at Washington, D. C., according to the Chamber of Commerce.

Several states allow advanced history students to take tours to points of historical interest as part of the curriculum, without loss of school attendance. Mrs. Helen Snyder, Chamber of Commerce secretary, said. This brings a large number of history classes to Gettysburg, she said.

Among groups which have already visited Gettysburg this month or are scheduled between now and July 1 are Boy Scouts from Maryland; a group of Boy Scouts from Camp Hill; Girl Scouts from Minneapolis; a party from London, Ontario; grade school children from Charleston consolidated school, Malvern, Pa.; adult students from San Jose, Calif.; a group from Holland, Mich.; students from Reddick, Ill., and a class from the Thomas Jefferson Junior high school, Arlington, Va.

Reds Lose Control Of Historic Florence, Italy, In New Voting

Rome, June 12 (AP)—Anti-Communists today won control of historic Florence but the Reds held stubbornly to their last great Italian port stronghold, Taranto.

These were the latest significant results as returns mounted from the third round of Italian local elections.

Premier Alcide De Gasperi's anti-Communist forces polled 113,181 votes in Florence to 107,398 for the Communists, who since the end of the war had administered the city.

Incomplete returns showed anti-Communists also leading in northern Turin, Italy's automobile center. There the Communists had won nearly two to one over the Christian Democrats in the 1946 municipal elections.

The vote stood today at 178,596 for the anti-Reds and 131,097 for the Communist bloc, in 620 of the city's 814 sections.

Almost complete returns showed the Communists still gripping the southern port city of Taranto—the last major Italian port still in Red hands politically. Christian Democrat forces stripped Communists of control in Genoa, Venice and Ancona in the May 27 elections.

CLAIMS PUBLIC RELATIONS WILL HELP BUSINESS

Good public relations are basically good employer-employee relations, J. E. Harkless, director of public relations and education for the G. C. Murphy company, told the local Rotary club Monday evening.

"Unless you have good employee relations, all the money spent for advertising is wasted," he continued. "Our employees are a segment of the public and have tremendous influence. If the employees are interested in their company, their friends and relatives will become, in a sense, salesmen for you. If your employee relations leave much to be desired, if your employees are harboring feelings of injustice, they can turn many customers away from the store."

Affects Business

"There is an even more important reason for good employer-employee relations than the effect it can have on an individual store or industry. If business men do not handle the employer-employee relationship in such a way that people can maintain self-respect and be interested in their jobs and have a feeling of (Continued on Page 3)

Three Columns Of Reds Flee Into Mountains In Effort To Escape Trap By Allied Tanks

Tokyo, June 12 (AP)—Three long columns of Reds fled through east Korea's mountains today to escape being trapped by Allied tanks rumbling through their fallen "iron triangle."

Stout new defense lines protected the Reds' retreat from the east-central front.

United Nations troops mopped up Reds in hills around captured Chorwon and Kumhwa. The towns formed the southern anchors of the P'yongyang valley iron triangle buildup area. Chinese headed for the hills on each side of the valley.

American tanks striking up roads from the triangle to the east coast cut squarely across the Red escape route from the eastern front.

Report New Buildup

While Reds were pulling back from the fighting fronts, unverified reports cropped up that they were building up new forces only 30 miles northwest of Seoul. The buildup was reported in the Kaesong-Korango area.

This is near the foot of the Allied western flank. This flank drags southwest of the main front. It reaches from Chorwon to a point 35 miles to the southwest, running roughly along the banks of the Im-jin river.

While the U.N. counterattack has pushed northward along a narrow front, patrols have probed this long flank daily for signs of Red strength.

The jagged northern front has been cut to about 75 miles. At the height of the Communist spring offensive it was 125 miles long.

Not Much Action

Front line dispatches and army releases Tuesday night reported little action. They gave this picture: West flank: Probing patrols found few Reds. But they ran into heavy artillery and mortar fire southwest of Chorwon.

Central front: Allies catching up with armored spearheads advanced as much as 5 1/2 miles south of the triangle in hot weather. They were unopposed.

"Iron triangle": U.N. troops took over large caches of supplies abandoned in the Chinese flight from Chorwon, once the southwest anchor of the triangle. Mustang fighter pilots blasted pack animals the Reds used to cart equipment out of P'yongyang at the triangle's peak. Tanks pushed out of Kumhwa, southeast corner of the triangle. They battled Reds dug in on both sides of the road to Kumsong, new Communist buildup point 12 miles to the north-east.

News Is Censored
East central: North Koreans made sporadic stands against advancing Allies. U.N. patrols pushed for miles through war-scarred hills before finding Red holding forces, or encountered none at all.

(Precisely what is happening on the front is hidden by tightening military censorship.)

(Few front line dispatches have been permitted to come through in recent days. Those few are heavily censored.)

"Pampas Tree" And Palmistry Both Out

Whoever called the clerk of courts office late Saturday morning found himself in the middle of a case of mistaken identity, but found out that he might as well have not called in the first place.

Mrs. Martha McCleef, deputy clerk of courts, thought the man had asked where he could obtain a permit for a "pampas tree." She asked the man to hold the line and went to see County Agent M. T. Hartman. The county agent had never heard of a "pampas tree" or the need for a permit for one, but suggested that the department of agriculture, bureau of plant industry, might be contacted.

Mrs. McCleef so reported to her unknown inquirer on the phone.

"Pampas tree!" shrieked the man on the phone. "I want a permit for palmistry."

Mrs. McCleef had to inform him he couldn't get a permit for that either—at least not in Pennsylvania.

One-run decisions went to the Texas Lunch and Moose in softball league games played Monday evening on the Recreation field.

The Texas Lunch solidified its third place position by nailing out the VFW 4-3 in the opening game of the twin bill. Three runs in the second inning turned the trick as Bartholomew and T. McLaughlin engaged in a tight pitchers' battle. Neither team scored in the last four innings and the Vets secured but three hits. Timbers led the winners with three singles.

The league-leading Moose team was forced to go all-out to down the Stanton Legion in the nightcap 11-10. The Legion romped off to a 5-0 lead in the first inning during which Dorn homered to deep left with a runner aboard. The Moose came up with six runs in the fourth via loose defense work by the Legion and then added five in the sixth. The losers rallied for four runs in the sixth and scored another in their last try at bat. Myers and Knox each secured three hits for their respective teams.

The Chicago White Sox and Brooklyn Dodgers, leaders in their respective major league races, begin another swing through foreign territory tonight nursing various minor aches and pains. They hope no serious complications develop.

Manager Paul Richards parades his White Sox, their American league lead trimmed to two and a half games by the New York Yankees, into Washington for a night game against the Senators.

Brooklyn, sporting a five and one half game National league edge, opens its second western tour of the season against the Cardinals tonight in St. Louis.

Troubles Hit Sox

Catcher Gus Niarhos and right-fielder Al Zarilla of the pennant-hungry White Sox are suffering groin injuries, pitcher Howie Judson's shoulder is painful, and outfielder Ed Stewart has been running a fever. In addition, pitcher Harry Dornish has been called home to Swoyersville, Pa., because of the death of an infant daughter.

Nevertheless, Chicago hopes to fatten its win column at Washington. The Chisox have belted the Senators seven times this year, losing only one game. Lou Kretlow, who stopped Washington with four hits last week, is Richards' pitching choice in the opener of the three-game series. Connie Marrero goes for the Senators.

Manager Chuck Dressen of the Dodgers will shoot preacher Roe and his eight-win-and-no-loss record at the Cards. This is the first of 13 games the Bums play in the west, and Dressen hopes 13 is a lucky number.

Big Don Newcome has a sore shoulder and will miss one and maybe two pitching turns, thus upsetting the Brooklyn hurling rotation.

Yanks Home Again

The Chicago Cubs, who skidded from third to sixth place in the east when they dropped seven of 10 games, open at home against the champion Philadelphia Phillies. Ken Heintzelman is to oppose Frank Hiller of the Cubs.

Boston's Braves, after losing seven of 11 games at home, move into Pittsburgh to oppose the cellar-dwelling Pirates. Cliff Chambers will tangle with the Braves' Johnny Sain in the opener.

The New York Yankees, who won three of four from Chicago barely to get out of the west with a 6-5 edge, are home for 13 games.

Cleveland moves into Philadelphia for three arduous games, with Bobby Feller on the firing line seeking his ninth victory against a single defeat. The Athletics will pitch Alex Kellner.

All clubs were idle yesterday.

Rowing Officials May Oust Penn Crew

Marietta, O., June 12 (AP)—Pennsylvania's defiance of the National Collegiate Athletic association's television moratorium may come to a showdown when officials of the Intercollegiate Rowing association meet here today.

The IRA board of stewards, a sponsor of the famed collegiate rowing regatta here Saturday, are expected to discuss possible expulsion of Pennsylvania from the regatta.

Asa S. Bushnell, IRA secretary, said the question of barring Penn from the regatta "probably will come up for discussion and a decision one way or the other."

The NCAA has declared Penn is "a member not in good standing" for its announced intention to televise all 1951 football games.

Await Answer On Status Of Grid TV

Spokane, Wash., June 12 (AP)—The tarnish acquired by the University of Pennsylvania in the eyes of the National Collegiate Athletic association would not rub off on opponents, Dr. Hugh C. Willett said today.

Dr. Willett, president of the NCAA, failed to make telephone connections with the association attorney and other officials yesterday regarding the Penn controversy. For that reason he put off until today his answer to the Penn suggestion that the decision be left to the U. S. attorney general.

Penn's question: Whether the televising of football games is legal or illegal under the Sherman Anti-Trust act and the NCAA constitution. The Ivy League school was placed in "bad standing" by the association when it refused to go along with the no-television policy of the National.

The association has reported in the past that it went into the anti-trust angle with the Department of Justice before adopting its new policy.

Reading, Pa., June 12 (AP)—The Boston Red Sox have signed up their second Reading high school player within the last five days.

Dick Knoblauch, an outfielder on this year's undefeated school team, said he has signed to play with Boston's High Point-Thomasville team of the North Carolina league.

The Red Sox signed the school's first baseman, Bruce Weaver, Friday.

Philadelphia, June 12 (AP)—

Philadelphia's 19th knockout of his career last night in his 21st professional fight—all victorious—by winning a technical knockout decision over Rudy Zadel of Pittsburgh.

Referee Pete Panteleo halted the scheduled ten round feature at Toppi stadium at the end of the fifth round. Turner, 143½, had opened a bad gash over Zadel's left eye in the second round and Panteleo refused to allow the fight to continue after the fifth.

Westbury, N. Y., June 12 (AP)—

Up-land, speedy car owned by Francis Killman, heads the field in the featured $2500 Minnesota purse of the Grand Circuit meeting at Roosevelt Raceway tonight.

Upland will be driven by veteran Ben Turlington. He'll meet such fast stepping sidewheelers as Gallonite, Appropo, Rena Grattan, Private George and Dynamic Hal. A crowd of 15,083 was on hand for the Grand Circuit opening last night.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, June 12 (AP)—For the love of Mike! Ray Dumont is at it again! . . . The cigar-smoking maestro of the National Baseball Congress tried out a jumping-jack microphone at the plate about ten years ago so the fans could listen in on conversations between ball players and umpires. . . . They quickly learned to keep away from the thing while using sulphurous language. . . . Now Ray has purchased a tiny microphone about the size of a dime, which comes with an amplifier and transmitter no bigger than a hearing aid. . . . The ump will wear it in his breast pocket during all NBC tournament games in August. The thing is supposed to pick up every sound on the diamond and transmit it to a receiver in the press box and thence to the public address system. . . . Dumont's idea is to purify the athletes' language as well as to let the fans in on discussions on the field. . . . Can't you picture Leo Durocher charging out from one side of the field and Frank Frisch from the other — both saying: "Goodness gracious, Mr. Warneke."

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Although the Yankees knocked off the White Sox three out of four games, Nelson Fox banged out five hits in the series. Even Yank pitchers have to be good to our Nell. . . . And did you notice that the Sox drew over 130,000 cash customers those three days? That's about what the Browns will draw all season.

Roberto Devicenzo, the Palm Beach golf tourney winner, credits Jimmy Demaret's teaching with making him a real golfer. Maybe he should give Jimmy some lessons now.

Michigan State's baseball team belted 27 homers in 26 games this spring and still didn't win the Big Ten title. Who says those college boys can't hit?

Williams-Shriver—May 29, at Arendtsville, by Rev. M. M. Noacher, Wm. H. Williams to Miss Buehla Esther Shriver, both of this place.

Wedding Bells: A very beautiful home wedding took place Thursday evening at eight o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Rutherford, near Harrisburg, when their daughter, Miss Jane Dickey Rutherford, became the wife of Mr. S. Gray Bigham, one of Dauphin county's prosperous young farmers. The bride was beautifully attired in a gown of white chiffon over liberty satin.

Rev. Luther Davis, pastor of Paxton church, the oldest Presbyterian church in Dauphin county, performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by many friends. J. Paxton Bigham acted as best man.

The home of Robert B. Myers, near Arendtsville, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Monday evening when his daughter, Miss Grace B., was united in marriage to Parron W. Stallsmith, of Baltimore, by Rev. A. M. Noacher. Mr. S. is a son of John Stallsmith, of Granite Hill. The couple will reside in Baltimore where Mr. S. has a position with the B. & O. R. R.

G.A.R. Encampment: The sessions of the thirty-fifth annual encampment of the Department of Pennsylvania, Grand Army of the Republic, the Ladies of the G.A.R. and the Woman's Relief Corps are over, and the veterans and friends have once more departed from this, their favorite camping ground.

These veterans, whose steps have become enfeebled and locks white from the weight of years, will, we believe, make this their permanent place of meeting. They decided almost by unanimous vote to meet with us next year.

At the campfire held on Tuesday evening in Xavier Hall, General Charles H. T. Collis, of this place, made the address of welcome.

The pupils of the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School of Scotland materially enlivened the encampment. They were taken over the trolley line Wednesday afternoon. They were accompanied by Capt. James T. Long, who explained the field.

The veterans fell in line Wednesday morning at the Eagle Hotel, their headquarters, and preceded by the Grand Army Band, of this place, marched to Xavier Hall, where at 10 o'clock the department command wrapped the convention to order.

W. T. Ziegler, of Gettysburg, was elected a delegate to the National Encampment.

The Ladies of the G.A.R. held their sessions in the court house. The address of welcome was delivered by Miss Mary Hoffman, of this place.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
BIG BUSINESS

Much is said in condemnation of big business. There should be no condemnation just because it is big. To bigness we owe the example of efficiency, constant improvement, and lowest possible costs for the things that big business creates, such as cars, refrigerators, radios, televisions, and endless other useful things. Our national government is big business.

More and more the people who buy the things that big business makes are taking an interest in the conduct of these great concerns, and are investing their earnings in them. Our great electric concerns, railroads and utilities are all inviting the people whom they serve to invest in their corporations. Millions of people today are part owners in big business. Only the other day a story of the one-millionth stockholder in the American Tel. and Tel. Company was featured — a modest Michigan citizen who had saved enough to buy seven shares of the stock in this mammoth corporation.

There was another story I read in my newspaper that interested me. Dr. George Keith Funston, president of Trinity college in Hartford, Conn., was selected to become the president of the New York Stock Exchange at a salary of $100,000.00 a year for a term of three years. Dr. Funston is but 40 years of age, born in Iowa, the son of a country bank president. He worked his way through the college that later chose him for its president. Now he enters big business, with a background of culture plus the judgment and experience that have been his for many years as director in many outstanding corporations. He once served as chauffeur for the college president whose place he later took!

When the nation wants big men, as emergencies arise, it selects them from big business, because they need big men, and those who have already grown to such stature. The advice and judgment of these business leaders are often priceless.

Were it not for big business today there would not be the small number of unemployed. And this wide employment, in normal times, has been the means of increasing wages and a higher standard of living for all workers. Most of these big men rose from the ranks!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Yes and No."

GOLF TEACHERS
Golf is a game that grown men play.
(The lawyer, merchant, preacher)
Affecting them in such a way
That each becomes a teacher.

The preacher, trying to be nice,
Proclaims in his sedate way,
If I will follow his advice
I'll keep the narrow, straight way.

What's wrong with me the doctor tells
And curious I think that is.
Though cures for other ills he sells
Golf ailments he'll cure gratis.

From little acorns oak trees grow.
With lawyers, merchants, preachers
A little golf's enough to know
To make them think they're teachers.

Offers Self For Cancer Research

St. Louis, June 12 (AP)—A 30-year-old automobile mechanic has offered himself as a human guinea pig for cancer research experiments after being told he is incurably ill.

Howard P. Davis specified that his offer was made with no limitations. Davis, a former army master sergeant who was in the front lines in Europe for more than 200 days during World War II, was operated on in 1947 for removal of a cancerous tumor from the side of his head and neck.

He became ill again two weeks ago. Tests were made and a report from a radiologist arrived Saturday saying the cancer has spread to Davis' right lung. His offer was in the form of a telegram to comedian

Socialized Medicine
Defeated, Tells AMA

Atlantic City, N. J., June 12 (AP)—American Medical association President Elmer L. Henderson said Monday that the AMA could relax its two-and-a-half-year battle against compulsory health insurance.

In a speech prepared for the first session of the AMA House of Delegates annual meeting, Dr. Henderson said that possibilities of a national health plan are now gone, "at least temporarily."

He announced that the AMA's special intensive campaign against compulsory health insurance would stop by the end of this year.

Dr. Henderson said a board of trustee decision to terminate the drive was made on the advice of Campaign Directors Clem Whitaker and Leone Baxter, Chicago public relations directors retained for the fight. The regular AMA staff, he said, will now take over their job "to hold the ground already gained and ward off any new attacks."

SHIELD EXPERT HERE

H. M. SHEVANN, widely known expert of Chicago, will personally be at the Washington Hotel, Chambersburg, Saturday only, June 16, from 9 A.M. to 2 P.M.

Mr. Shevann says: The Zotic Shield is a tremendous improvement over all former methods, effecting immediate results. It will not only hold the rupture perfectly no matter the size or location but it will increase the circulation, strengthen the weakened parts, and thereby close the opening in ten days on the average case, regardless of heavy lifting, straining or any position the body may assume. A nationally known scientific method. No under straps or cumbersome arrangements and absolutely no medicines or medical treatments.

Mr. Shevann will be glad to demonstrate without charge.

Cars Scrape Fenders On Lincoln Highway
Automobiles operated by Paul R. Bream, Jr., of Lancaster, and Vernon W. Leasor, of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, collided on the Lincoln highway a half mile west of Cross Keys at 11:15 o'clock Sunday morning, according to state police of the Gettysburg substation.

Leasor, traveling west, had just overtaken and passed another automobile and was returning to the outside lane of the three-lane highway. Beam was traveling west in the center lane, police said. Fenders of the two cars scraped. Damage to each automobile was estimated at $25. No one was injured.

Washington, June 12 (AP)—Officials said Monday the administration is ready to give Communist Yugoslavia "very substantial" supplies of arms and military supplies if Marshal Tito's anti-Soviet government asks such aid.

Arms procurement talks here between Col. Gen. Kotche Popovic, chief of the Yugoslav general staff, and Defense Department officials, were described as "quite satisfactory." They are nearly concluded.

Machine May Have Sparked Flash Fire
A sanding machine, operated by two York Springs brothers, employed by the Brunswick-Balke Collender company, may have produced static electricity or a spark which led to the flash fire at the Central YMCA, Harrisburg, Monday which resulted in the death of Mrs. Alyce Werner, 45, Lemoyne.

George and Carl McDermott were using the machine in cleaning the bowling alleys and the possibility was advanced that static electricity may have been developed or a spark thrown off setting fire to cleaning fluid.

Most of the damage was confined to the basement and the bowling alleys were ruined, according to Walter E. Kirker, YMCA secretary.

Black Stem Rust Perils Pa. Crops
Harrisburg, June 12 (AP)—Pennsylvania farmers stand to lose several million dollars this year in crop damage by black stem rust disease, the state agriculture said today.

The department said conditions during the past week were favorable for rapid development of the disease. 600,000 farms.

It added that in the last big rust year, 1948, losses in grain were estimated at $3,750,000.

The department said a recent survey showed unusually heavy appearance of the rust disease spores on barberry plants in grain growing areas. It added that winds last week started carrying the disease.
